IMOBX

Rent a home. Work toward owning it.

IMOBX is preparing a first rent-to-own housing project in Rio.

01 Local construction and clear family agreements.

02 Residents help shape shared spaces and decisions.

03 Current stage: planning, documents and design.

IMOBX

Start with what a family needs.

The first project would help displaced families and people unable to use ordinary housing finance.

01 Agree who can join and what payments are affordable.

02 Explain repairs, payments and the path to buying the home.

03 Make help and complaints easy to access.

IMOBX

Rafael has supplied a building budget.

His US$27,777 per-home plan uses CUB and SINAPI, Brazilian building-cost references.

01 Land US$5,550 · construction US$18,600 · solar US$1,500.

02 Shared works US$1,500 · design and legal work US$627.

03 The village plan assumes at least 36 homes built together.

IMOBX

Put the home and responsibilities in writing.

IMOBX would arrange property access, family agreements and building work.

01 Check who owns the property and how IMOBX may use it.

02 Agree the builder’s work, price, deadline and who checks it.

03 Explain payments, purchase progress and the final transfer.

IMOBX

Show where each payment goes.

Keep rent, donations, grants, service income and trading fees separately identified.

01 Pay taxes, repairs and agreed running costs.

02 Keep money for empty homes and commitments to families.

03 Fund more homes; consider any permitted investor payments afterward.

IMOBX

Pay today’s bills. Plan the next homes.

Running the existing homes and building more need separate budgets.

01 Check the budget with little or no trading income.

02 Rent ends when the family becomes the home’s owner.

03 Show how continuing income and new building funds will be found.

IMOBX

Give residents a real say.

Discuss which decisions belong to residents, workers and possible investors.

01 Residents help decide how shared spaces and repairs work.

02 People chosen for work have time limits and can be replaced.

03 Housing and purchase rights stay protected by agreements and law.

IMOBX

From a request to checked work.

Agreed roles, spending limits and shared records keep everyday work moving.

01 A resident raises an issue; a responsible person takes it forward.

02 Someone else checks the work, payment and receipt.

03 Open tasks and approvals are ready for whoever takes over.

IMOBX

A home, a voice and an investment are different rights.

A possible token needs a specific job and a written agreement.

01 Families need a protected path to owning their whole home.

02 Residents need a say; staff need clear duties and spending limits.

03 Any investor needs defined income, losses and exit terms.

IMOBX

Prepare, test, then decide the next step.

The roadmap links homes, money, shared decisions and digital tools.

01 Days 1–30: roles, property, budget and family discussions.

02 Days 31–60: money rules and worked examples; day 90: readiness decision.

03 Fund the pilot, follow results and test with another local team.

IMOBX

Measure homes and promises kept.

Follow actual costs, accounts and families' experience.

01 Check completed work, final cost and delays.

02 Match every receipt and payment; report repairs and unresolved issues.

03 Show participation and progress toward owning the home.

IMOBX

Help prepare the first project.

We need people who can check the homes, agreements and budget.

01 Building partners: confirm the work, property access, costs and timing.

02 Housing, accounting and legal advisers: review agreements and money rules.

03 Families and community partners: test the information and help process.
